

RUSSIA FIRED ON OWN SHIPS

Plausible Story of the Attack on the North Sea Trawlers Very Recently.

ARE PREPARING FOR A BIG BATTLE

Lull in the Fighting in the East Is Prelude to a Fierce Renewal of Activity Very Shortly.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
London, Oct. 31.—The cabinet met this afternoon to consider the points of inquiry of the North sea affairs.

Tell the Story
Berlin, Oct. 31.—Frankfurter Zeitung has a dispatch from Tangiers stating that the officers of the Baltic fleet admit that while coming to Tangiers they shelled British colliers which were carrying no lights.

Secret Treaty
St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Russia and Belgium signed a treaty making it obligatory to submit all matters in dispute to arbitration.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—Its own torpedo boats were the object of the Russian Baltic squadron's fire, and to its misdirected shots was due the destruction of the Hull trawlers in the North sea, according to positive information said to be in the hands of the ministry of marine.

The torpedo boats were performing scout duty around the squadron, when two of them appeared near the transport in front of the warships. The officer of the watch at once signaled that he was being attacked. One torpedo boat, maneuvering quickly, crossed the bows of the transport and escaped as soon as the firing began.

The commander of the second torpedo boat as soon as he was fired upon, thought he was attacked by Japanese and repelled with his quick-firing guns. Several men on the nearest battleship were wounded.

The torpedo boat commander was first to discover the mistake. He made a number of frenzied signals, and succeeded in getting out of the range of the fire.

Expect Big Battle.
London, Oct. 31.—An unaccountable and ominous calm has fallen over the scene of last week's fighting in Manchuria. That the lull portends some mighty military movement, some desperate stroke either by the Japanese or Russian force, is generally agreed.

Neither army is so situated that it can safely remain in its present position even for many hours. Neither has given any sign of an intention to retreat. The only explanation for the delay seems to be that one side or the other is gathering itself for a final test of strength with its adversary.

If of the general fighting there is a dearth of news, of outpost engagements, cavalry sorties and night attacks, there are reports in plenty. "I have received no dispatch reporting encounters with the enemy," telegraphs Gen. Kouroupatkin under date of Oct. 29, according to a message received from St. Petersburg, "but during a cavalry reconnaissance after an infantry fight supported by artillery, we occupied the village of Chantsanhean."

"The enemy has retired from Sindhu."

"On Oct. 28 our chasseurs, with insignificant losses, retained a village a kilometer west of Chenlanpu against a violent Japanese bombardment."

Other outpost affairs are mentioned by the Russian commander, including the reconquest by his men of the village of Tyssis, a short distance south of Luldzlatung, whence they had previously been expelled by the Japanese. The village was burned following the first encounter.

Night Attacks Are Made.
Tokio dispatches tell of a successful night attack by the Japanese on a Russian outpost at Wumingsun and two unsuccessful counter attacks by the Russians.

"On the night of Oct. 28," says the Japanese version, "a small force of the enemy attacked Wumingsun, but was immediately repulsed. Oct. 30, at 3 a. m., a detachment of infantry was dispatched from the center army against Wumingsun. The enemy was surprised and the houses occupied by the enemy were set on fire."

"Wumingsun is located midway between the outposts of both armies. Using the place as a base, the enemy made frequent night attacks against our outposts. On the night of Oct. 28 a force of the enemy of unknown strength attacked an eminence near Santokangzu, but was immediately repulsed."

The Japanese attack of Oct. 27 on the Buddhist temple hill appears to have been the heaviest of the recent engagements. The islanders' artillery played for hours on the position, sweeping the Russians backward from the trenches and demolishing all shelters.

Two machine guns with the battalion defending the hill were demolished. The Japanese infantry attack was in close order under cover of the bombardment.

Desperate hand to hand fighting followed. The Japanese finally gained the hill, but were unable to hold it in the face of the deadly Russian artillery fire.

Hill Shells on Port Arthur.
Chefoo, Oct. 31.—The third general attack on Port Arthur is still raging, according to unimpeachable reports from refugees from the beleaguered city.

Beginning Oct. 24, the fugitives say, the Japanese have steadily continued a furious bombardment. The Russian trenches on the slope of Kilung mountain were captured Oct. 26, as was a fortified position protecting that fortress. On the same day Japanese shells set fire to the only smokeless powder magazine in Port Arthur.

The islanders are said to be well satisfied with the progress they are making in the siege of the city.

MADISON DOMESTIC STOLE A THOUSAND

Grocer Daniel Trainor Robbed of Money and Jewelry by a Young Servant Girl.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., Oct. 31.—Hilda Johnson, a Norwegian domestic servant, in the employ of Grocer Daniel Trainor, in this city, robbed her employer of $1,000 under the assumption of wonderful stupidity. She is 18 years old and had been working for Mr. Trainor only three months. The stolen money was in part checks and bank notes. "The girl at first denied the theft but finally admitted to the police that she had concealed the money in an outfit in the stable. After the money was found the girl's trunk was searched with the result that a valuable diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Trainor was found. The only excuse the girl had for committing the theft was that she was shortly to be married and desired to have some money for fine clothes and a brilliant wedding outfit. Mr. Trainor, owing to satisfaction at recovering his money, allowed the girl to get out of town and escape arrest."

TONIGHT IS THE DREAD HALLOWEEN

All Movable Property Should Be Placed Behind Barred Doors—High School Festivities.

Place all movable property behind locked doors tonight. It is Halloween, the night preceding All Saints' day. All down the centuries ghosts have been popularly supposed to wander abroad in the land on this night but during the past few decades there has been a great development in the supply of real, active spirits. The shortage, however, has been more than made up by very material spoofs who devoted their particular attention to loose gates, sections of sidewalk, business signs, vehicles, horseblocks and similar property of a movable character. The boy with the pea shooter and the "tick tack" will be in evidence and he will probably not be molested by the police and a sharp lookout will be kept for the boy with the wet chalk who writes weird communications on store windows.

There will be numerous Halloween festivities at private homes tonight. The high school faculty and senior and junior students of the domestic art department are celebrating this afternoon. The invitations were decorated with very clever little drawings of witches and goblins, read as follows: "Witches come in secrecy and silence, at four thirty o'clock on Halloween, to the fourth floor from the basement, of the J. H. S. by the narrow stairs, speak not of this to mortal ear, lest on the way ghosts make you fear." There will be apples swinging from long strings, and all the other accessories which make the festival one to be remembered.

MANY WANT THE VACANT OFFICE

The City Marshalship Is Now Being Bought by Many Persons—Much Talk.

(Special to The Gazette.)

The office of city marshal is soon to be filled and already there are any number of candidates for the position. One gentleman said this afternoon he had twenty names mentioned but he could not remember them all. Prominent among those mentioned are John Brown, present acting chief; ex-Sheriff William Appleby, Sheriff George Appleby, Alderman J. J. Constock; ex-Sheriff J. L. Bear, and T. L. Acheson. All of these men have had experience that would warrant them good marshals. Interest seems to have centered on the two Applebys, Brown, and Constock, and the choice of the council, it is said, will lie in one of the four. Aldermen are, however, reluctant to talk on the subject, and the matter will probably be left over for a week or so before being settled.

TOTAL VALUATION OF STATE PROPERTY

Is Nearly Two Billion of Dollars, According to Report of Wisconsin Tax Commission.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., Oct. 31.—According to the report of the Wisconsin tax commission, the total assessed valuation of all property on the state for 1904 is fixed at $1,842,711,000. This is an increase of $39,669,000 over the assessment of last year, the total of which was $1,753,172,000. In Dane county the increase of valuation is surprising. Last year the assessment was $79,423,270 and this year it has increased to $84,018,125. The valuation of the assessment in Milwaukee county has been lowered. Last year the assessment was $391,432,556 and this year the figure is $389,501,117.

TOURING CAR HIT A TELEPHONE POLE

And Orrin K. Earl of Chicago, Was Trown Head on Over Hood of Machine Into Tall Grass.

Samuel Shaw Parks and a party of Chicago men consisting of Howard T. Ballard, Frank E. Page, and Orrin K. Earl arrived in Janesville from Madison in a big Cadillac touring car about noon yesterday. After dinner at the Myers House they resumed their journey to Chicago and proceeded about a mile down Main street when an accident occurred which laid them up in this city until eleven o'clock last night.

Parks was at the wheel and had started to drive the machine to the right of a team a few yards ahead when the driver likewise turned his horses in the same direction. To avoid smashing into the rig it was necessary to turn sharply to the left. In executing this maneuver the machine "sloughed" in the narrow sandy road and the hub of the front wheel on the "box" side struck a telephone post with terrific force, and in an instant was jammed in between this and a telegraph pole only a few inches distant. At the same moment Mr. Earl who had half arisen from his seat in front was hurled headlong over the hood of the machine and landed in the tall grass some yards distant. He escaped with only a few scratches. The machine was brought back to town and taken to the Barker State Machine shops where it was found necessary to take off the front axle and steering rods and straighten them in the fire. The party left for Earl's summer cottage at Delavan lake at a late hour. Bad luck seems to have pursued the tourists throughout the entire journey. Starting from Chicago at 5 a. m. Saturday they intended to reach Madison in time for the football game, but punctured tires prevented them from reaching the capital before six o'clock. L. W. Stratton, H. W. Weed, N. C. Susan, and L. L. Littlefield, all of Delavan, also came in from Madison on a large touring car yesterday. An Aldrick and party of Beloit, and William Brittan and party of Beloit also visited the city.

TO PROSECUTE BEEF TRUSTS

Court Injunction Is Alleged To Have Been Violated by the Big Packers.

EVIDENCE IS SENT TO PRESIDENT

James R. Garfield of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Is To Transmit the Result of Investigation.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Washington, Oct. 31.—Evidence gathered by the department of Commerce and labor, which is said to show the beef trust to have violated the court's injunction against the packers, is to be turned over immediately to Attorney General Moody by President Roosevelt with instructions for prompt prosecution. James R. Garfield, on a request from the department of justice for the evidence, declared he would place it at once in the hands of the president. Prompt action will follow.

The demand for the evidence collected by the department of commerce came first from District Attorney Bethen of Chicago and was made known to Secretary McCall by Mr. Moody. Commissioner Garfield at once pointed out the terms of the law and insisted that his investigation had nothing to do with the department of justice. What became of the evidence after his report was made to the president, he said, was entirely another matter.

Department Investigates.

The investigation of the commission of corporations is practically at an end, and has been carried on by open agents of the department and secret service men. It was taken up in response to a resolution of the house presented by Representative Martin, who, in an interview at the time, insisted the beef trust still was carrying on its unlawful operations in spite of the action of the court, and that the cattle raisers and meat buyers still were suffering as a result.

The investigation by the agents of Commissioner Garfield continued throughout the summer and the early fall and is said to have been exhaustive. It was directed primarily against the cattle of packers who were said by Representative Martin still to be grinding the cattle raisers in the matter of prices paid.

Probe Combinations.
This, however, was only a small part of the inquiry, for one revelation led to another, and the investigation went into the matter of a combination to regulate the selling price and still further into the alleged combination of packers and railroads.

Although there is the greatest reticence in Commissioner Garfield's office as to the nature of the evidence obtained, it is understood on good authority that a large part of it is condemnatory of the present operations of the beef trust, and that there is sufficient testimony to warrant submission to the department of justice.

Cattle Raisers Testify.

Both the independents and the cattle raisers were free in giving their testimony, though the latter for obvious reasons desired more or less secrecy. The charge made by Representative Martin that the beef trust managers met to fix a price to be paid to the stock men appears to have been substantiated, and there is good reason to believe there is evidence to show that at the same time they fixed the price to consumers.

The question of discrimination of the railroad freight rates was investigated very fully, and in this the department of commerce and labor was greatly assisted by the independents.

TWENTY-THREE INJURED IN A BIG WRECK NEAR TIPTON.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 31.—Blinded by a headlight in the yards at Tipton, Mo., Engineer Ramsey of section No. 2 of train No. 3, Missouri Pacific World's Fair special, allowed his train to crash into section No. 1, and three persons were killed and twenty-three injured.

Train No. 3, on account of the heavy world's fair travel, was made up in two sections, the first leaving St. Louis for Kansas City Saturday night at 10:10 o'clock. The second left a few minutes later, and when it reached Tipton section No. 1 was taking on passengers. According to Engineer Ramsey of section No. 2, a headlight in the yards blinded him and he was unable to see section No. 1. He also says that his orders were "clear ahead."

The second section was running about thirty miles an hour when the collision occurred. The end sleeper of section No. 1 was entirely demolished, and the second sleeper was overturned.

About thirty miles an hour when the collision occurred. The end sleeper of section No. 1 was entirely demolished, and the second sleeper was overturned.

List of Dead and Injured.

The dead:
Mrs. Bright Walker, Lewisburg, Pa.
Mrs. Margaret Burke, Kansas City.
J. W. Bagby, Kansas City.

The injured:
W. J. Black, general passenger agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad; collar bone broken, back wrenched, and bruised.

Mrs. W. J. Black, Topeka; ankle broken; head badly bruised.

Thomas Richardson, Portland, Ore.; injuries slight.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Kansas City; head bruised.

J. S. Calfee, St. Louis; serious.

W. H. Morrison, Sedan, Kan.; hip injured.

L. B. Stoner, New York; serious.

W. W. Manspeaker, Topeka; arm and leg injured.

J. C. Wiles, St. Louis; back wrenched.

J. B. Twined, New York; serious.

D. J. Maguire, Trenton, Mo.; slight injuries.

G. McEmberly, Niles, Mich.; slight injuries.

Mrs. G. McEmberly, Niles, Mich.; slight injuries.

J. F. Hammer, Lawrence, Kan.; slight injuries.

A. A. Sellman; serious.

Mrs. J. F. Skinner, Lampasas, Tex.; nervous shock and bruises.

Miss Ruth Skinner, Lampasas, Tex.; scalp wound.

Cynthia White, Lampasas, Tex.; nervous shock and bruises.

C. C. Porter, East Orange, N. J.; scalp wound and foot cut.

Mrs. C. W. Donaldson, Kansas City, Mo.; shoulder and arm hurt.

Robert Eaton and W. E. Price, Pullman porters; injuries slight.

Mrs. J. F. Skinner, Miss Ruth Skinner, Cynthia White, C. C. Porter and B. J. Maguire were taken to hospitals in this city upon their arrival here.

Continue the Journey.
Those of the passengers whose injuries were slight continued their journey, while the more seriously hurt were taken to the company's hospital in St. Louis. W. J. Black and wife of Topeka were taken to the Missouri, Kansas & Texas hospital in Sedalia.

The engine of the second section struck the Pullman car Topaz square, splitting it for two-thirds of its length, and all of the fourteen passengers in the car were either killed or injured. There were twenty-two passengers in the next car ahead, and although all were badly shaken up by the collision and received a few scratches, only a few were injured seriously.

The blame, according to Superintendent W. J. McKee, who at once went to the scene of the wreck, rests with the engineer and conductor of the second section. They were running twenty-five miles an hour when the superintendent said, they should have had their train under control.

BEWARE! SPOOKS WANDER ABROAD

MYSTERIOUS SOUNDS WILL BE HEARD THIS EVENING.

GHOSTS WALK: BOYS REJOICE

Hot Times Expected—Many Will Learn Their Fates This Evening—Old Customs.

Mysteries reign supreme tonight. Beware of moving sidewalks, chills and cutting noises and keep a close watch upon the small boy. There is a witchery in this night of all nights, of the whole year when ghost and goblins, and "other things too numerous to mention," as we used to write about in our school-time days, walk the earth and moan and groan and unwell your future if you understand the proper incantation to force them to divulge the awful secrets which they hold in their grasp.

A Halloween party should be distinctive in its nature, different from every other form of entertainment that may be given during the rest of the year. It must suggest the weird and uncanny, or it must be of a nature that marks it as an autumn festival. One who woman who has been studying the problem for months has finally grasped the idea of a regular old-fashioned, husky bee. This will take place at this time of the year. The corn was secured by going down to the market early in the morning before the gardeners who came there to sell their wares, were quite awake from their slumber, sleep on their wagons. It did not take long to finish the bargain. Besides the corn stalks, oak leaves and red sumac leaves and sweet, choice hay were arranged for, as well as a number of pumpkins.

All the pictures will be taken down and every ornamentation that speaks of the conventional will be removed. Stacked in huge piles against the walls, in the corners, and all about will be stalks of corn bound together in shocks, just as they are in the fields right in her own parlor, which, luckily, are very large and roomy and lend themselves well to a thing of this sort. The floors are of hardwood, and covered with rugs, and all that will be necessary for her to do will be to take up the rugs, when, presto, change, the rooms may be turned into a fair representation of a barn.

The oak and sumac leaves will be festooned about the walls, taking the place of the pictures which will be removed. Gas and electricity will play no part in this novel festival. Instead the pumpkins will be hollowed out to form huge lanterns, which will be placed here and there about the rooms close together, making a dim light uncanny enough to suit any one. There will be no chairs—everyone will be expected to sit on the floor. The husking will be in earnest, and the one who gets a red ear will be privileged to assert his rights as its possessor.

No other form of decoration will be attempted than that provided by the oak and sumac, the corn, hay and pumpkins.

On a long table in the dining room will be placed the luncheon which is to be served, and the guests will be expected to go there and help themselves as they may desire. The refreshments will be of the homeliest kind—home-made rye bread, sandwiches, baked beans, Boston brown bread and pumpkin and mince pies. Coffee will be served from a steaming urn, or those who prefer it may have cider, with just enough twang to it to make it bite as it goes down. The entire aim and object of the hostess at this party will be to get far away from the conventional and allow her guests to act naturally and be themselves, without any artificialities to hamper the free flow of their own individuality.

After the corn has been husked an old homestead party will be the next thing on the program, culminating in some of the weird incantations that are usually the rule on Halloween night. There is more genuine enjoyment in an old homestead party than in any form of game that ever was invented. It is so entirely nonsensical, so genuinely insane, that the most staid is forced to unbend and take his part in the uproar of fun, he particular form which this feature will take at the party which I am describing is: Loading hay wagons, gathering eggs, drawing water from the well and driving the cows to pasture.

For the hay loading feat it will be necessary to borrow a small wagon from the boy next door. Beside it, on the floor, will be spread out a small quantity of sweet hay. The company will be divided into pairs; each man having a girl as a partner. The place of pitchforks will be taken by two fine oyster forks. Each pair of partners will be given forks at the same time and told to load the hay wagon with as great rapidity as possible. A referee, who does not enter the game, will time the workers with a stop watch. The couple making the best time will win, and each of the two will receive a point. The couple who score the most points during the evening will win the prize.

The egg hunt will follow next. Candy-eggs will be the nesting treasures which the company will search

Letter to Mr. Wm. Skelley, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: The cheap paint to buy is the one that covers more than you think; the cheap one to wear is the one that is young when old.

Mrs. Moore, of Kacey, N. Y., bought 16 gallons Devco to paint her house two coats; her painter said it would take that. Had 6 gallons left.

Mr. James Ackley's house, in Cairo (Catskill Mountains), N. Y., was painted Devco; it was 14 years; and the paint was in good condition then. He was going to paint the last we knew, though. That's the way to preserve a house; repaint when there's no occasion.

Yours truly,
W. Devco & Co.

PRICE OF EGGS REMAINS FIRM

NO GREAT RISE IN PRICE IS ANTICIPATED.

FLOUR NOW UP IN THE SKIES

Vegetables Are Plentiful—Apples, Though Not Cheap, Are Reasonable—Market Talk.

According to the advices received in the city the situation in the egg market has taken a change, and the prospects for high prices during the winter months are passing. The packers are not as certain of the high prices as they were earlier in the season; and they are trying to unload their enormous gathering of hen fruit. While the tendency of the last two weeks has been a steady advance in the price of eggs, the storage supplies are bound to keep the price reasonable throughout the winter. Eggs of unreliable freshness are being retailed at 23 cents a dozen. Some of the grocers seem to fear that the interests of the public will prove but a poor argument against the avarice of the packers, who have been shrewdly working to gain just the advantage the scarcity of eggs gives them.

Many Potatoes Come In. Thousands of bushels of potatoes have been sold in the city during the last few days by Rock county farmers. The crop has been all that could be desired and housekeepers are storing heavy supplies for the winter. The tubers are being sold from house to house and 30 cents is the average price. It is reported by some merchants that the potatoes are larger and more solid in texture than in former years. This is perhaps due to the unusually favorable condition of weather that prevailed during the growing season. Reports from northern Wisconsin are to the effect that there will be plenty of potatoes for shipment and that the merchants will have offers of all they can handle.

Winter Apples Reasonable. Several varieties of winter apples are being offered on the market at reasonable prices. All the merchants have a large stock on hand. Ben Davis, snow, orange, strawberry, greenings, Wolf River and Baldwin are a few of the kinds that are sold. The price averages from $3 a barrel or 35 cents a peck. Many carloads of this fruit have arrived in Janesville and an immense quantity has already been disposed of. Canning pears and Michigan Concord grapes are the other fruits on the market. Peaches and plums have disappeared for some time.

Among the vegetables, cabbages, pumpkins, squashes, turnips, beets, rutabagas and parsnips are plentiful. Chestnuts have recently arrived in the city and are being sold for 10 cents a quart. Cranberries are cheaper at this season than at the corresponding time last year. Three quarts for 25 cents seems rather encouraging for Thanksgiving.

A fair supply of honey has come to the dealers and wholesale offerings were better than usual.

Will Beans Be Scarce. Janesville merchants are looking about just now to see if there are any beans for sale. There is a lively demand for the product and as yet there have been but small deliveries received. Good hand picked beans will be worth from $1.50 to $1.75 a bushel.

Flour is still in the air and there are indications that it will remain at the present figure, or it may possibly go higher. The continuance of the eastern war, with the possibility of England being involved, has kept the wheat market in "high latitudes." Bread, however, has not advanced in price.

Janesville Voters From Having to Use in the Election.

By purchasing the voting machines Janesville, escaped more than the bother of the common ballot. Janesville voters escape having to vote with the largest ballot ever used in the state. It measures twenty-four by thirty-five inches. The democratic column appears first, as usual, followed by the "National Republican" column which contains only the names of the state candidates headed by Mr. Scofield. The fourth column comes under the heading "Independent" and contains the presidential electors, the La Follette candidates for state office, congressman and county officials. The ballot also provides for a vote on the primary election law.

RETIRING AGENT IS HIGHLY HONORED

A. N. Gleason of the Northwestern,
Presented with Handsome Token —Gift for Clark E. Ranous.

In behalf of the thirty-eight employees of the North-Western railroad on the passenger agent's payroll, A. N. Gleason at the conclusion of an appropriate little speech Saturday evening presented the retiring official, A. N. Gleason, with a handsome gold watch-chain and charm. Twelve of the donors were represented at the pleasant gathering. On the charm is engraved the initials of the recipient and the date of his leaving the service—October 31, 1904. The gift is a token of the esteem in which he is held by his fellows and is highly appreciated by Mr. Gleason. Clark E. Ranous who recently relinquished his position as freight agent, was also presented with a handsome set of station, B. H. Baldwin acting as spokesman for the donors.

Wanted—For U. S. army: Able-bodied unmarried men between ages of 21 and 35; citizens of United States of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write English. For information apply to Dr. J. B. Whiting, Jr., or recruiting office, Carpenter block, Janesville, Wis.

George Nicholson is laying off, being relieved by A. Blum.

C. G. Sullivan, who has been off duty for the last few days on account of sickness, will return to work on the night switch-engine this evening. J. E. Townsend has been relieving him.

Engineer L. M. Gosseline went to Harvard yesterday to take the Sunday passenger.

Fireman J. E. Heagney went to Harvard yesterday to work on the switch-engine.

Floyd Dunwiddie is laying off on account of illness.

The pump at the St. Paul roundhouse gave out last evening and the employees had to go to the Northwestern roundhouse until the repairs were made.

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois has shortened the running time of its Chicago-St. Louis trains from a half hour to one hour, placing both trains on an eight-hour schedule. The change was made yesterday and the announcement regarding it came at the same time with an announcement that the Alton and the Washburn are to lengthen the time of their day trains, returning to the eight-hour schedule. The reduction in time by the Eastern Illinois trains is due to greatly improved conditions of track and roadbed on the new portion of the double-track line and to a desire to make better Chicago connections with eastern and western roads. It is understood that the Eastern Illinois served notice on other Chicago-St. Louis lines that if a speed war was desired competing lines could have it.

It is semi-officially stated that traffic has grown to such proportions on the Pennsylvania lines that the passenger department has decided to retain some of the fast Pittsburgh-St. Louis trains after the World's Fair closes.

The total orders placed in one day with the American Car and Foundry company and the American Locomotive company were for 3,000 freight cars and sixty-five engines. The largest orders were given by Eastern roads.

The Transcontinental Passenger Association has given the St. Louis terminal lines the right to extend the limit of exposition ticket to exhibitors and also to make rates for them on leaving St. Louis.

JACK O' LANTERNS AND FALL BOUGHS

Used With Pleasing Effect at Richardson Home—Surprise Parties at Starr and Irwin Homes.

Fifty ladies were guests of Mrs. Victor P. Richardson at the six o'clock tea given at her home on St. Lawrence place Saturday evening. The porch was decorated with lighted pumpkins and other Halloween novelties and boughs of autumn leaves were used with charming effect in the interior. Refreshments were served at small tables and the evening was devoted to six handed euchre, the score cards being made to resemble little pumpkins. Mrs. J. L. Bastwick was awarded the first prize and Mrs. George Kimball secured the lucky number trophy.

At the Irwin Home William Irwin, foreman of the plow department of the Janesville Machine Co.'s plant, and wife were surprised by their friends at their South Franklin street home Saturday evening. The game of euchre was played, first prizes being carried off by John Lynch and Mrs. Ralph Close and the consolation, by Mrs. James Tenpenny and Thomas Peterson. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the playing.

Surprise on County Clerk. Friday evening a number of friends of County Clerk and Mrs. Frank P. Starr visited their home on Milton avenue, arriving with well filled baskets at six o'clock to celebrate the wooden wedding anniversary of their host and hostess. High King was played, the first prizes being carried off by Ada Brant and Charles Preller and the consolations by Mrs. Fred Clegg and M. D. Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Starr were presented with a number of useful gifts and a delightful evening was enjoyed by all of the participants.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

New Championship Team: The Darlington high school football team has come into the race for the state championship like a new star in the heavens. Hitherto Darlington has played but few games, but in a gridiron contest with the famous Fort Atkinson team last Friday it played a tie game, the score standing 6 to 6. It is claimed that the Fort nearly lost the game and made the touchdown only on a fluke.

Special Meeting: The W. C. T. U. will hold a special parlor meeting with Mrs. E. M. Poorman, 213 S. Academy street, Wednesday at 3 p. m. An interesting program has been arranged and all who wish to come will be welcome.

KILLS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Tragedy Follows Separation of Couple at Lowell, Mass.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 31.—Henry E. Eaton shot and killed his wife and himself at North Chelmsford, where Eaton and his wife, who separated two weeks ago, had met by appointment. The two dined at the home of Eaton's sister, Mrs. William McClure, and later left the house together. On the street and but a short distance from the McClure home they were seen to stop and engage in an animated conversation. Suddenly Eaton drew a revolver and shot his wife and then himself. Both wounds were in the brain and in each case death was instantaneous. Eaton was 35 years old and his wife ten years younger.

Banker Commits Suicide.

Delavan, Wis., Oct. 31.—James F. Lattner, vice president of the Lattner bank, shot and killed himself in the bank with a revolver. He was 71 years old and thought to be worth $200,000. He had been very ill for some time with brain trouble.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbre's Herpelide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRE'S HERPELIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPELIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes planed, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe the NEWBRE'S HERPELIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

INFORMATION FOR VOTERS

Remember, there are two ballots to be voted for this Election: (1) The National, State, Congressional, Senatorial, Legislative and County Ticket.

(2) The Primary Election Law Question.

HOW TO VOTE ON THE U. S. STANDARD VOTING MACHINE.

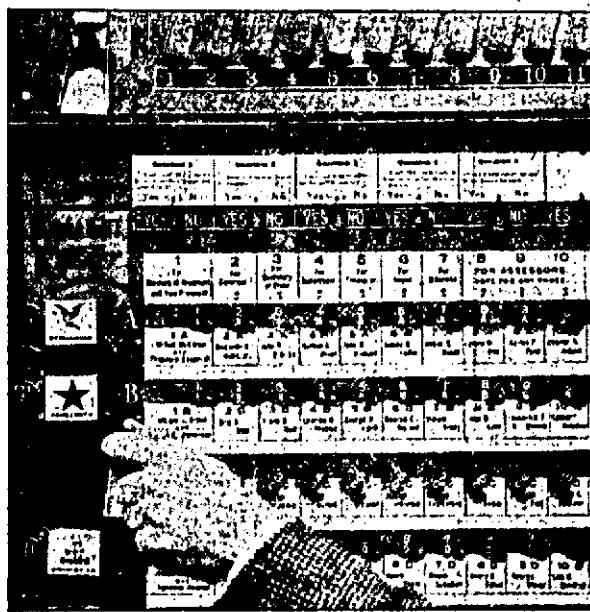

Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the right as far as it will go. This will close the Curtain around you, and unlock the machine for voting.

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE THE CURTAIN.

HOW TO VOTE A STRAIGHT TICKET.

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down all of the Pointers of your party to a voting position.

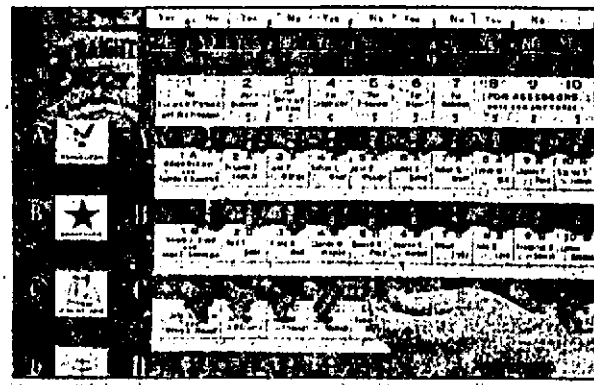

VOTER PULLING OVER PARTY LEVER.

Leave the Pointers as they are (down in a voting position). Move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go.

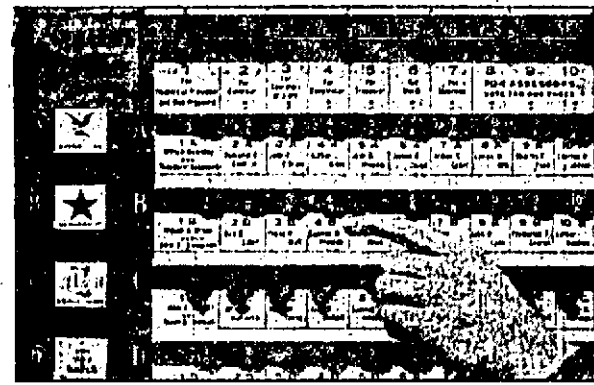

This will count your vote, open the Curtain, and set the machine for the next voter.

HOW TO VOTE A SPLIT TICKET.

Having closed the Curtain—Pull the Party Lever bearing the name or emblem of your Party over to the right UNTIL THE BELL RINGS, and then let it go back. This turns down all of the Pointers of your party to a voting position. Turn back (up) the Pointer from over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for for that office. See illustration below.

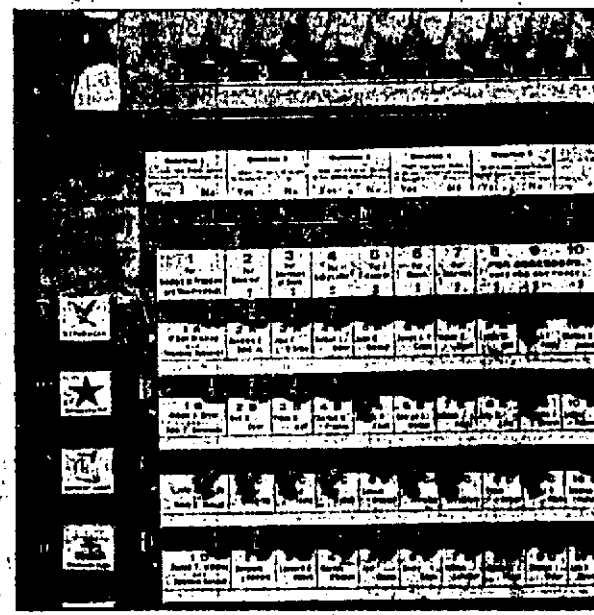

And then turn down a Pointer over the name of the candidate you wish to vote for for that office. See illustration below.

Be sure to complete each Split before making another. For an office to which two or more candidates are to be elected, the given number can be voted for, regardless of position. After the vote is arranged, move the Red Handle of the Curtain Lever to the left as far as it will go. This will count one vote for every candidate that has a Pointer left down over his name.

HOW TO VOTE ON QUESTIONS.

To vote Yes, turn the Question Pointer to the word Yes, and leave it there. To vote No, turn the Question Pointer to the word No, and leave it there.

THE ABOVE CUT SHOWS:

That the voter has voted Party Lever "C" and then—Split his vote for Treasurer, on Column 5. That he has voted for Assessors, voting for three on Column 9 (for which office he is permitted to vote for any three candidates on either of the Columns, 8, 9, and 10). That he has voted "Yes" on Questions 1 and 2. That he has not voted on Question 3. That he has voted "No" on Question 4. If the voter desires, he may make any further changes while the Curtain remains closed, as the vote is not registered until the Curtain is opened. The Pointers must be left down over the names to be voted for. If the voter turns them back the vote will not be counted, as the opening of the Curtain turns back the Pointers and counts the vote.

MURDER A MAN BY CREMATION
Coke Oven in Pennsylvania Is Scene of Innovation in Assassination.

Masonstown, Pa., Oct. 31.—Steve Borok, employed at the Bessemer coke plant, declares that he saw a man thrown into a coke oven and cremated.

Borok says he saw three men scuffling on top of an oven and a moment later saw two of them jump to the ground and disappear in the darkness. Just then flames issued from the oven as though fuel had been tossed into it.

Coroner Hagan ordered the oven drawn, when blackened human bones and teeth were found. The murdered man and his assailants are unknown.

It is Underwear?

WE are selling an enormous lot of winter underwear, although we have really had no cold weather. There is a reason for it! One comes there expecting to see the largest and most complete stock, expects to find just the desired weight, style and size, whether for a woman, miss, girl, boy, or small child—Suits or Separate Pieces. Our stock of men's underwear consists of the very best shirts and drawers made to sell at 40c, 50c, $1.00, 1.25, 1.50 and $2.00. Munsing Suits at $2.00, $3.00, $4.50. Fine Balbriggan Suits at $1.50.

MEN looking for the very best values will do well to call and get posted.

The Great Munsing line of Underwear can be found here. Almost everybody who can read knows about The Munsing Underwear.

The Perfect Lewis Underwear—Women in quest of a superior grade of underwear, especially union suits, at once recognize the excellence of the Lewis Garments. The Janesville Agency for the Lewis Underwear for women, misses, children we have taken.

SPECIAL ORDERS—All special orders for Lewis Garments are taken by us and the factory turns them out promptly. We have samples of the full line and a woman can select just what is wanted and have special measures taken, thus insuring a perfect fit.

The Sterling Suits are very fine garments, made of mercerized cotton yarn, extra heavy, at $3.50 and $3.75.

Union Suits for Children have grown in popular favor and we show excellent suits at 50c, $1.00, $1.50.

Women's Swiss Ribbed vests and pants, sizes 4 to 8, in vegasilk $1.00, merino $1.25, silk and wool $1.50, pure silk $3.00, silk suits $6.50—made by Julius Kayser of double finger tip glove fame.

Dr. Jaeger's Sanitary Wool Underwear we carry in stock for women, men, children. Highly recommended for rheumatics. It does the work.

Special Weights—All the light and in-between weights are here; can satisfy any demand.

Corset Covers—Knit corset covers occupy a prominent place in an up-to-date underwear stock.

We show garments that know no competition at 25c, 50c, 65c, 85c and fine wool $1.25. The larger the claims of other houses hereabouts about showing the largest stock of underwear, the more they advertise The Big Store. People wink the other eye and think of South Main street and this store's underwear department.

Kansas Treasurer Resigns.
Topeka, Kan., Oct. 31.—State Treasurer T. T. Kelly has filed his resignation as a result of the discovery of the alleged shortage of $1,400 in the accounts of his office. Gov. Bailey has made public a report of additional shortages of $31,000.

SILVER DEMOCRATS VINDICATED

While the money question is not an issue in the present campaign, both Parker and Roosevelt being for gold, the silver democrats can insist that their position has been vindicated and that the question has decreased in importance only because an unexpected increase in the volume of money has raised prices and brought in part what bi-metallic would have brought in a larger measure. The present situation can be illustrated as follows: Suppose the democrats of a city believed the water supply to be insufficient, pointed to a lake nearby, called silver lake, and proposed that an additional supply be brought from that source. Suppose the republicans objected on the ground that the water supply was sufficient and carried the election. Then suppose a spring burst forth in the center of the city supplying half as much water as the city used before, and suppose that all the people rejoiced in the additional supply and profited by it—who would say that the republicans were vindicated? To be consistent republicans would have to favor plunging up the spring and returning to the quantity in use before the spring appeared.

This describes what has happened in the financial world. The democrats contended that more money was needed and pointed to the silver reservoir as the only available source from which to draw money. The republicans insisted that we had money enough but soon after the election new gold mines were found and from that and other sources the volume of money has increased until we now have about 50 per cent. more than we had in 1896 and everybody is glad. Who have been vindicated, those who said we needed more money or those who said we had enough and now boast of the unexpected increase? To be consistent the republicans ought to propose to retire the increase and go back to the amount we had in 1896. The money question will again receive attention when the demand for money overtakes the supply, but the quantitative theory has triumphed.

The above article on free silver is from the last issue of the "Commoner," and expresses Mr. Bryan's views on the situation. "Disabled but still in the ring."

The man is so completely carried away with his hobby that he refuses to recognize conditions which have furnished the money necessary to the transaction of business, and still believes that a dishonest dollar would have accomplished the same results.

The money of the world has come to this country in great abundance, during the past few years, because the balance of trade has been so largely in our favor. This balance means everything to American industries and American workmen. The former have been stimulated by the best administration which the country has ever enjoyed and the wages of the latter have been kept good by wise protective laws.

Mr. Bryan talks about money like a parrot. The business of the world is transacted on confidence and the stability of the world is founded on wealth and property, and not on a circulating medium which is known as money and used for convenience.

The farmer worth $10,000 may seldom see $100 in money. It isn't necessary that he should but he has a spring on his premises that is perpetual, and when he needs a few dollars the supply is never lacking.

The nation has been preserved from dishonor because a majority of the people possessed business sense as well as honesty, when it was threatened by a tidal wave of Bryanism. The time will never come when the American people will be influenced by fine spun theories however much Mr. Bryan may aspire to leadership under that sort of a banner.

VOTE AGAINST THE PRIMARY LAW.

There are several good reasons why the primary law should be defeated, and one of the most important is that it aims to disrupt parties and weaken organization. A great deal is said now-a-days about machine and political corruption, but the fact should not be overlooked that organization is as necessary to party life as it is to the life of the church.

The character of the organization should be determined by the party which it represents. That some men should be leaders and others enthusiastic, intelligent workers is to the credit of the party.

Successful work in every department means concentration. Large corporations recognize this fact and place their interests in the hands of a board of directors, and hold them responsible for results.

The members of a party, scattered over a state, get together in villages, towns and wards, and select neighbors in whom they have confidence to represent them in convention. There is no thought of corruption and while several candidates may aspire to office in the conventions which follow, the rivalry is friendly and people are generally satisfied.

The primary law seeks to do away with all preliminary gatherings, and the only man, or set of men, who has any interest in the affair is the man who seeks office. This little coterie of office seekers takes the place of the party organization and destroys the foundation of the republic.

Under the primary law the city of Milwaukee could name every candidate on the state ticket, and by spending money enough could secure their nomination.

The law is theoretical and un-American. It should be voted down, regardless of party lines.

VOTE FOR NORCROSS.

Every republican in the district should vote for Captain Flynn Norcross to represent them in the assembly.

Mr. Norcross was invited by the manufacturers of the city to become a candidate. They believed in him and regarded him as a safe man to represent them at Madison.

These are the men who stand behind the industries and furnish employment to labor. A candidate who is satisfactory to them should be satisfactory to the people. With Senator Whitehead as a colleague the city will be ably represented and both should be elected by rousing majorities.

To vote a split ticket you must first turn the large knob in front of some straight ticket to the right. This turns every knob in the row and uncovers a white cross above each name on the ticket. Cut out name by turning knob back to upright position below the name you want to cut out, and turning the knob down in same column that is below the name you want to vote for.

A man may be sincere and dangerous. He may be honest and unsafe. Sincerity and honesty are good qualities to possess, but more is necessary to safe leadership. Bryan is sincere and no one ever accused Debs of dishonesty.

The only true estimate of character is based on what a man does and not on what he says. Church membership and party membership are not always passports to loyalty.

Senator Whitehead has ably represented the strongest republican county in the state for eight years. He will continue to represent it.

President Roosevelt is charged with being a war president. He manages to command the respect of other nations and the country has no cause to complain.

If the democratic party hangs together Peck will be elected hands down.

There is only one republican state ticket in the field and that is headed by Ex-Governor Scofield.

Vote "No" against the primary law by turning indicator to right until it rests over the word "No."

If Congressman Cooper made any votes for the governor, how did he do it?

PRESS COMMENT

Superior Telegram: Well, how is the old overcoat? Did the moths do anything the past summer?

Oshkosh Northwestern: Many a girl loses her chance for getting a happy home just because she is too particular about having her hair mussed.

Milwaukee Journal: A lady laughed herself into a paralytic stroke in a Chicago theatre. We still suspect that these Chicago playhouses are unsafe.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The Wisconsin club women who are attending the annual convention of the state federation at Marinette, have been careful to inject just enough politics into their proceedings to show that they are not strangers to the game.

Evansville Review: Prudent ministers will now make pastoral calls. The cool season is upon us, and a minister is liable at any time to come upon a man who is putting up a stove, and surprise him in the midst of unorthodox remarks.

St. Paul Dispatch: A railroad official of this city tells the reporter of a morning paper that railway men dislike to have their portraits in papers. "We have nothing to gain and everything to lose by publicity."

Evening Wisconsin: The killing of a young woman at Maple Grove by a stray bullet, is an incident of the hunting season that will be repeated when the deer hunters swarm into the "north woods." Bullets do not stop when they miss their marks, and there is more wild lead flying during the deer hunting season than metal going true to the mark.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Secretary Shaw reckons that there will be 2,100,000 first votes this year, and other political prognosticators figure that most of them will vote for Roosevelt. The first voters in the south must for the most part, be excepted; but with the negro eliminated the southern first voter will be but a small part of the total. That the northern first voter will be for Roosevelt, by a large majority, rests on at least a plausible theory.

Chicago Chronicle: The death of Reuben A. Hitchcock from apoplexy while playing golf at the Calumet Country club and other deaths that have occurred on golf links raise a suspicion that golf-playing is a little too strenuous for people over 60 years old. Old people do not like to admit it, but there is a point in a man's age when anything that makes his heart beat faster hastens his death. Open air and gentle exercise, yes—physical exertion, no.

MANY UPSETS IN FOOTBALL WORLD

MINNESOTA AND CHICAGO ARE PLAYED TO STANDSTILL.

MICHIGAN'S GREAT VICTORY

Cast a Pall Over All Madison Saturday—High School Plays

Football is a mighty uncertain game but superior weight and strength are big factors in determining results, especially if these be combined with equal or superior swiftness and versatility of attack. Wisconsin outclassed Michigan in the kicking game, both in getting off, running down, and handling punts, but the Wolverines were better in every other department of the game. In the first half Yost's machine moved slowly, some of the cogs showing a disposition to shirk the work laid out for them, and the contest looked to be much more even one than it afterwards proved to be. Captain Bush, Vanderhook, Bertin, Kemp, and Findlay while he was in the game, put up fine football for Wisconsin, while Heston and Norcross, Tom Hammond and Longman were star performers for Michigan. The best of feeling prevailed among the spectators and even after the game was over and the score stood 25 to 0 for Michigan, the Wisconsin rooters joined in the rival college yell. This was particularly noticeable at the beginning of the game. The Ann Arbor rooters were outmanned 10 to 1, yet on several occasions the whole cardinal gallery took up the U. of M. battle cry. When ever a man was hurt and resumed playing, both sides cheered. There were no crude shouts to the referee, no fault-finding with the rulings. The conduct of everyone reflected true sportsmanship and was good to see. Janesville sent a delegation of about 150 to the game and made a better showing than any other city of its size in the state.

Several Big Surprises
The announcement that the corn-bushers from Nebraska had played Minnesota to a standstill, crossing the Goetz goal line twice and only losing the game by the score of 12 to 16 furnished one of the big surprises of the day. Almost equally surprising was Illinois' tie game with Chicago. All through the first half the Illinois team held a good margin of advantage. The final score was 6 to 6. Pennsylvania triumphed over Harvard by a score of 11 to 0. A week ago Saturday West Point defeated Yale 11 to 6 and the week before Annapolis defeated Princeton 10 to 9. Everyone of the three big eastern eleven has now been defeated and Pennsylvania which has been in football darkness for some years looks to be the most promising of all the eastern eleven.

Home Team Plays Monroe
Beloit College played a tie game with Lawrence, the final score being 5 to 5. Beloit High school defeated Freeport 33 to 4. There was no contest scheduled for Janesville High school last Saturday but Monroe will probably be taken on for the coming Saturday. A week after that Ft. Atkinson will play here.

"On bunker hill yesterday afternoon one of the best amateur games played in the city this year was contested by the second ward team of the city and an eleven composed of Rockford enthusiasts. It was exciting from start to finish and though each team did some good ground gaining work, the Janesville players though team work was lacking proved to be the better tacklers and line buckers. The score stood at the close of the last half, Second wards 5, Rockford 0. The touchdown was made in the first five minutes of play, Rockford losing the ball soon after the kickoff on a fumble, and the locals going over for the only score of the game. Hutchinson, Wilbur, Riley and Joyce were the stars on the Janesville eleven. Joe Spear, formerly of this city, showed up well in the position of fullback for the Forest city team. The eleven lined up as follows:

At Yost's Park
The first ward team of this city met defeat yesterday afternoon at Yost's park in a contest with the Beloit city eleven, the final score being 9 to 0. The First Ward Juniors played a 0 to 0 game with the Beloit second team as a preliminary attraction.

LUCILE WRIGHT WAS THE HOSTESS

Pretty Party Saturday Afternoon at the Home of Charles Wright, on Milton Avenue.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright on Milton Ave. was a scene of joy last Saturday afternoon, it being the sixth birthday of their little daughter Lucile, and a few of her friends were invited to celebrate. A beautiful supper was served at 6 o'clock, the table being decorated with autumn leaves. Many happy returns were wished by all before taking leave of the little hostess. Those present were Mrs. Ruth Decker, Mrs. Paul Denker, Roger Scofield, Kenneth Paul, Norman Paul, Francis Hughes, Mario Hughes, Marion Han and Lucile Wright.

Register tomorrow sure.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS ON THE ISSUES

Will Address the Meeting at the Myers Opera House This Evening.

Governor La Follette will speak this evening at the Myers Grand opera-house under the auspices of the Roosevelt-La Follette club. He will arrive in the city at seven o'clock, but no reception, previous to the speech, will be held at the Myers hotel, owing to the fact that the governor has wished it announced he will be glad to meet his friends at the opera-house at the conclusion of his speech. While in the city Governor La Follette will be the guest of Victor P. Richardson and will remain in Janesville over night. Tomorrow evening he will speak at Beloit. Mayor Richardson will preside at the meeting this evening and will introduce the governor.

FELLOW WORKERS ATTEND SERVICES

Railroad Men Present in Body at the Krager Funeral; Cigar Makers at Hemingway Funeral.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Gus C. Krager were held from the house yesterday morning at 8:20; the Rev. Vaughan officiating. The employees of the St. Paul road in this city were present in a body and marched in the funeral train from the family residence at 252 Center avenue to the North-Western passenger depot where the remains and mourners were taken over that line to Chicago. Funeral services in charge of the railroad men were held at the grave and interment was made in Rose Hill cemetery in Chicago. Those who accompanied the remains to Chicago returned by special last evening over the St. Paul road. The pallbearers were all employees of the St. Paul line: W. H. Roe, John O'Connell, Michael Nolan, J. Foley, Clayton Bush and John Cavey.

John Hemingway
The remains of the late John Hemingway arrived in the city from Chicago yesterday morning about half-past eleven, and were conveyed immediately to the chapel where funeral services were held. The Rev. W. P. Christy officiating. Among the mourners were the members of the local cigar-makers' union, who were present in a body. The pallbearers were James Sutherland, Charles Eberts, John Ehringer, M. Ehringer, Kerbie Wheeler, and Will Lennartz.

James Cronk
After an illness of several months James Cronk died at his home in Page, Neb. Mr. Cronk grew to manhood in the township of Magnolia. He was 58 years old and leaves a widow and six children, besides three sisters and two brothers. He was a brother of Mrs. J. O. Van Gilder of this city.

The Mystic Workers will give an entertainment for the members and their friends Tuesday evening, Oct. 1st, at East Side Odd Fellows' hall, Washington street.

A NEW BASEBALL PROJECT EVOLVED

Chicago Man Seeks to Organize Wisconsin State League of Nine Teams—Includes Janesville.

Out of Milwaukee comes the word that an effort is being made to organize a Wisconsin baseball league with nine teams for next season. The circuit is to take in the cities of Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Appleton, Sheboygan, Janesville, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, and La Crosse. John T. Powers of Chicago who has been identified with amateur baseball for some years in that city, is back of the movement and will soon make a trip around the circuit in order to feel his way and get the clubs in line for organization. The plan is to play every day in the week and place the league under the protection of the national agreement, with a salary limit of about $800 per month. Mr. Powers is enthusiastic that he can put it through successfully. Recently there was talk of forming a Fox River Valley league to take in Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Appleton, Kaukauna, Green Bay, Marinette, and possibly Manitowish. The move would be much less, but Mr. Powers thinks that the interest could not be so great in a league where the clubs are so closely connected as with the representative cities of the entire state. Should he meet with encouragement on the trip around the circuit Mr. Powers will then call a general meeting and form the league. When Beloit was denied further representation in the Three Eye league there was considerable talk of organizing a league consisting of teams from the cities of Rockford, Freeport, Racine, Kenosha, Beloit, and Janesville, but no active steps to organize appear to have been taken.

SOCIAL UNION CLUB MEETS ON TUESDAY

Will Open Its Third Season Tomorrow Night with Discussion of St. Louis Fair.

"Glimpses from the World's Fair" will be the topic for discussion before the Social Union club at its opening meeting tomorrow evening. Prof. H. C. Buell will act as leader and at the close of the regular program all members who have visited St. Louis will be invited to offer impromptu reminiscences and opinions. The club begins its third year with 147 members. Supper is to be served at the Y. M. C. A. building at 6:15 sharp. The following phases of the exposition will be discussed:

1. History of the Louisiana Purchase.
2. The Architectural Grandeur of the Buildings.
3. The Marvels of the Electrical Displays.
4. The Industrial Phase of the Fair.
5. Social Life at the Fair.

CROPS HAVE ALL TURNED OUT WELL

Farmers Are Rejoicing Over the Present Outlook for the Winter.

The past week has been especially fine for "cleaning up" the harvest of farm crops. Potato digging is nearly completed. Potato rot is not so much of a drawback as was apparent a week ago. Too much moisture was the cause of decay. Sugar beets are arriving at the Janesville factory at the rate of about a thousand tons per day. Three hundred and fifty tons arrived in wagons and the balance by rail. Corn is, in the main, unfit to crib, owing to the moisture in the cob. It is hoped that it will become merchantable on the arrival of cold weather. All kinds of stock are thriving finely. No contagious diseases prevail among the animals so far as reported.

REMAINS ARRIVE THIS EVENING

Funeral of the Late George Clark Will Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon at Two

The remains of the late George Clark, who died in Santa Anna, California, as the result of a runaway accident that happened last summer, will arrive in the city over the North-Western road this evening at 6:35. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home of David Clark, a brother of the deceased, on Milton avenue. S. G. Huey will be the officiating clergyman and interment will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

Many Visit Grave: A large number of people visited the grave of the late John Hogan yesterday afternoon to view the beautiful floral offerings that are still fresh and show no signs of being touched by the heavy frosts of the last few evenings.

LAST WEEK OF A POLITICAL BROTH

ELECTION DAY IS SOON TO END THE TROUBLE.

THE GOVERNOR HERE TONIGHT

Whitehead and Jeffris Are To Speak During the Coming Week—Many Meetings.

Eight days more and election day will be here. Eight days more and the fighting will be all over and the voters will be left to the voters to decide. It has been a long, hard campaign, extending from early last April, without a pause until the present time. This evening Governor La Follette speaks at the Myers opera-house; tomorrow he is to speak in Beloit. Wednesday night Senator Whitehead speaks at Evansville, Thursday at Milton Junction, Friday at Clinton Junction, Saturday at Janesville, and Monday night at Beloit. M. G. Jeffris is to speak at Beloit on Saturday night and here on Monday night. Aside from these speakers named it is expected that at least five other meetings will be arranged in the county at Edgerton, Janesville and other districts—that have not had their fill thus far of spellbinders.

A Hot Finish
It promises to be a hot finish for a long campaign. Reports from throughout the state show that every county is receiving careful attention. Various estimates have been given by political managers as to the possible outcome. Roosevelt and Fairbanks' election is taken for granted. The democratic state central committee claim the state for the fact that thousands of democrats who voted the republican ticket two years ago will this year vote the democratic. They claim that they will have all but two or three percent of the former democrats in line again. The national republican committee makes the claim that La Follette is beaten but give no figures. The La Follette republicans place the governor's majority at anywhere from twenty-five to seventy thousand. All is guess work but it is true that the democrats are being gotten into line and this may mean a victory for Peck.

In the County
While a bitter fight is being waged throughout the county on the election of Senator Whitehead on the part of the governor's faction, still there seems to be no great fight on the county ticket and it is not expected that there will be. Baker, Norcross, and Hanson, the republican nominees for the assembly, will be elected and the election of Senator Whitehead is also certain. Chairman Mount of the democratic county committee states that "Whitehead is beaten, however! Richmond is making a hard and bitter fight in the first assembly district and is being aided somewhat in his campaign by the distribution of the same document that was used against the senator last spring by the La Follette republicans. It is understood that only twenty-five hundred were printed at a local office and that they have been distributed to the list furnished Mr. Richmond by the La Follette clubs.

In the State
In the state the fight is also bitter. M. G. Jeffris speaks tonight at Burlington, rests tomorrow night, and then is at Baraboo, Stevens Point, Madison, Beloit, and here a week from tonight. It is possible that Senator Quarles will speak in this county again. Congressman Cooper is also said, will speak at Evansville tomorrow night. There is a charge made against the governor's lieutenants that in Sheboygan a political deal has been swung whereby the social democrats are to gain an assemblyman in exchange for votes for the governor.

GRADUATE SYSTEM HANGS IN BALANCE

Unless Wisconsin Wins Remaining Football Games, Return to Professional Coach Is Predicted.

Feeling at Madison in favor of abandoning the graduate football coaching system and returning to the system of hiring an eastern professional has been tremendously strengthened by the overwhelming defeat of the Badgers by the Wolverines Saturday. The only thing that will preserve the graduate coach system at this university will be success in the remaining big games with Minnesota and Chicago. Last year Wisconsin was defeated by Michigan, Minnesota and Chicago, but it was mitigated by the fact that the graduate coach system was in its experimental stage and that Coach Curtis was young at the position. "We'll give the system another year's trial," was the general remark. Early in the present season when the coaches failed to agree among themselves and some of the leading players quit the game until the coaches retreated, the settlement in favor of the professional coach system became strong. This was augmented by the defeat by Michigan and the immediate object lesson in Yost and his team, demonstrating the superiority of the professional coach over the graduate system. Those who still tilt to the graduate system say that the defeat of Saturday shows that Wisconsin has a great eleven; that no team in the country could beat Yost's machine; and that on the results of the games in the west Saturday Wisconsin should win the Minnesota and Chicago games and finish second to Michigan in the western intercollegiate championship race. Chicago was tied, practically defeated by Illinois, a mediocre eleven and not admitted seriously into the championship calculations. Minnesota was twice scored upon by Nebraska, also a team not credited with being in the class with the "big nine" leaders. Some critics at Madison assert that any team that could hold the irresistible Wolverine team down to a single touchdown in an entire half is able to decisively whip both Minnesota and Chicago. This is the idea with which the coaches are disposed to inspire the players and brace them up to continue the season. Head Coach Curtis does not care much whether or not the graduate system is maintained, for he will not coach after the present season, having determined to enter upon the practice of medicine. Assistant Coach Cochran, however, greatly desires the continuance of the graduate coach system and also is determined that the best possible showing shall be made in the remaining games, for upon this showing depends his aspiration to succeed to the position of head coach next year. The Badgers are badly bruised as results of the game and it will be several days before they shall be recuperated. No hard practice will be attempted until late in the week.

Yale and Princeton Strong

University of Michigan Has the Probable Champion Team of Middle West—Veterans at New Haven—The Eleven of Harvard Is Weak.

The two strongest football teams in the east now appear to be those of Yale and Princeton. The annual battle between these two colleges Nov. 12 will probably settle the much mooted question of the championship. In the west and middle west the University of Michigan's eleven is likely to finish at the top of the list. At Harvard conditions are not particularly encouraging. The supporters of the crimson have practically given up all hope of de-

Football work at the University of Wisconsin is well advanced. The men now training in the Wisconsin squad are: Of last year's team, Findlay, left tackle; Reup, center; Wrabetz, halfback, and Clark, fullback; while from last year's reserves there are H. Jones, who played end in part of the Minnesota game; Kuhnstead and Schriber, substitute quarterbacks; Robinson and Franzke, halves, and O'Brien, guard. In addition Stromquist, a fast heavy fullback from Kansas; Conville, a chunky tackle possibility from Michigan, and the two Colorado men, Acker and De Lappe, have been in the party and showed up well. Stromquist in particular runs low and promises to be a man hard to stop.

At Princeton, Princeton probably lost more in the graduation of De Witt than any of the other big college teams in the graduation of any one man. Five other veterans who played against Yale last year have also gone to return no more as undergraduates. In Captain Foulke Princeton has, however, a halfback of the first rank and a leader possessing both tact and executive ability. The other veteran players who are available this year are Cooney, the freshman tackle of last year; Short, center in 1903; Dillon, De Witt's team mate at guard; Kafer, of the All American halfbacks last autumn; Burke at quarterback and Rulon-Miller at fullback.

Incendiary Politics.
A distinguished lawyer, who is also a member of congress, with not only a national but also an international reputation, as well, in the course of a recent speech before a large audience in Brooklyn, drew a picture of strike conditions in New York and Colorado which merits attention.

His skillful word painting presented on the one hand a group of employers obstinately refusing to concede the fair and just demands of their workmen, and seeking to take improper advantage of them in order to increase their own profits; while on the other hand the strikers were represented as resisting this alleged injustice, and enduring with manly patience the sufferings to which they and their families were subjected in order that a great principle might be maintained.

The facts, however, showed that the employers had been paying the highest wages to their men, and were not only ready and willing but anxious to continue to do so. The strike came upon them when they had large and important contracts on hand. The cessation of work involved for them, not only the loss of daily profits, but in some cases, penalties for a failure to complete their undertaking within a specified time. It was, therefore, to their interest from every point of view that they should push forward their work with all speed. These facts further show that the demands of the strikers were not so much for a betterment of the wage scale, as they were to restrict the power of the employers to manage their own business, the principal point being that the employers should bind themselves to hire no man who was not affiliated with the unions; that the employers were losing money and were threatened with grave financial disaster because of the strike—the men not only refusing to work themselves but preventing any one else from working in order to compel the employers to concede their demands; and that the strikers and their families were supported in their idleness by money drawn from the strike funds of their unions, supplemented by contributions from similar organizations in sympathy with the movement to deny to any American citizen, not a member of a labor union, the right to earn his bread by the sweat of his face.

The truth was that the men might have at once resumed the earning of the highest wage paid to men in their trades had they been willing to withdraw their demand that no American citizen not belonging to the unions should be given work; and that the employers might have resumed operations had they also engaged in this conspiracy to destroy the right of non-union men to work where they pleased, for whom they chose, and for such wages as might be satisfactory to them.

The speaker proceeded to comment upon the status in Colorado, where the authorities had been compelled to resort to the extreme step of deporting from the state, men belonging to the Miner's Union, who, being on a strike to compel the mine owners to refuse to employ American citizens who were not members of the union, had resorted to acts of blood and violence to secure their ends. The strike in Colorado put an end, for the time being to the production of the precious metals in that locality. It interfered with and injured all business. It narrowed and for the moment almost destroyed the market of the farmers; it cut down the volume of trade in all its branches; blocked the wheels of progress and checked the prosperity of all the people. It was attended with peculiar violence, the law was set at defiance and assassinations, arson and rape were its accompaniments. The strikers who were deported had themselves driven from their homes and deported American citizens who sought to earn their living in the deserted mines.

The orator was unsparing in his condemnation of the Colorado authorities because they had taken this extraordinary but absolutely necessary step. All his forensic skill was adroitly used to misconstrue and misrepresent the facts in both cases. A listener having no knowledge of the truth in the premises would have been entirely justified in believing that this is a country in which the working man is downtrodden, oppressed and denied his natural rights as a man, as well as those which pertain to his citizenship, by unscrupulous capitalists, who somehow find profit or pleasure in bringing their own business to a standstill if not to utter ruin itself, in order to inflict a wanton injury upon helpless victims!

The purpose of such misrepresentation is, of course, obvious. Whenever there is a popular hustings, and whenever men are appealed to for their votes, there will always be found reckless partisans ready and willing to go to even the utmost limit of incendiary suggestion in order to win the support of the unthinking, unpatriotic and dangerous element in the land. For there was incendiary suggestion, no less, in every inference to be drawn from the impassioned speech of the orator made unscrupulous by his zeal to gain votes for his party.

The dangers that accompany such expedients to achieve party success may not be safely minimized, nor ignored, and against their use the thoughtful and patriotic citizen will resolutely set his face and use his influence. To the conservative men, who comprise the best of our American citizenship, is entrusted now, as it always has been and must be, the safety of our institutions. To them has come the duty of stamping out the un-American ideas upon which such unworthy appeals depend. And to that splendid body of yeomanry, the American farmers, the feating Yale at New Haven, although Captain Hurley and Head Coach Wrightington (the famous Harvard player of years past) daily endeavor to strengthen the team.

Yale Veterans.
At New Haven the comparatively large number of players on last year's eleven that are on hand gives the "rooters" much encouragement. Bloomer, the star tackle and guard, is doing splendid work for Captain Hogan. Much is also expected of Tom Shevlin, Bowman and Rockwell.

The recent defeat by West Point has caused Yale to work doubly hard.

In the squad of twenty-nine men of last year are a number of high class players who were prevented from making the team last fall by the exceptional quality of material. Rafferty and Dutcher are certain to make a great fight for the place left by De Witt. Tooker, Brasher, Crawford and Houghton are all possibilities for positions at the ends of the rush line, and all have had experience in big games. Foulke and Kafer should make a great pair of halves, and there is also McCormick, the Exeter halfback, who prepared for Yale and at the last minute deserted the New Haven camp for Princeton. Arthur Hildebrand, aided by former Captain De Witt, will probably form the nucleus of the coaching staff.

VIRGINIA FOOTBALL.

Charlottesville Aggregation Benefited by Early Practice.

Candidates for the University of Virginia football eleven are in much better condition than usual this season, for the simple reason that the coach reached the university several days before the opening of the season and at once took hold of the early aspirants for the team, a number of whom had been ordered to report. It cannot be said, however, that the team as a whole is working along as smoothly as some of the elevens which have represented the institution on the gridiron.

The outlook for a strong team in the important games is bright, and great confidence is placed on Coach Sanford's ability to turn out an eleven which will be able to hold its own with any team in the southland. Sanford is not handicapped by lack of material. The return of Captain Council, who suddenly withdrew from college early last spring, was a source of great satisfaction. The student body feels that there is no greater player anywhere in the south.

Beverly Pollard, who for two years was assigned a place on the all southern eleven, is again found at quarter. The other old men on the team are Bass, right half; Hull, left end; Cook, right end, and Randolph.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, October 31, 1864.—Look Out For the Scamps.—The burglars we noticed last Friday as having arrived here the day before have not been very successful in house breaking and to feather their nest thought they would try a hand at passing counterfeit fifty-dollar treasury notes but failing in this they concluded to leave town. Most of the gang left this afternoon for Chicago. There are two or three of them left who will need watching.

Passed Through.—The eighth Minnesota Volunteers, Colonel Thomas commanding, passed through the city last Saturday afternoon about five o'clock on their way to the field. question of the "righteousness or unrighteousness of labor unions as at present managed is coming home with peculiar insistence, since even now a movement is on foot to organize farm laborers into a union, whereby American agriculture will also be subjected to the domination of the walking delegate and very likely to the destruction of crops and other property, for such acts are expected to follow strikes just as surely as strikes are intended to follow labor union organization.

UNITED STATES ISSUES PEACE CONGRESS CALL

Secretary Hay Carries Out President's Instructions by Sending a Circular Note to the Powers.

Washington, Oct. 31.—In a circular note Secretary Hay has carried out the president's instructions relative to proposing a second Hague conference. The note not only contemplates the reassembling of The Hague conference for the consideration of questions specifically mentioned by the original conference, as demanding further attention—such as the rights and duties of neutrals, the inviolability of private property in naval warfare and the bombardment of ports by naval forces—but goes further by practically endorsing the project of a general system of arbitration treaties and the establishment of an international congress to meet periodically in the interests of peace.

The issue of the call while the present war is in progress is justified by the fact that the first Hague conference was called before the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain was concluded.

An Appeal in Behalf of the Freedmen.—Rev. Mr. Pillsbury spoke eloquently in several of the different churches in the city yesterday in behalf of the freedmen who have come out of the houses of bondage and are needing assistance. At the hands of those whose lot has been cast in more goodly places. Any clothing may be left at the store of Leavitt & Dearborn.

WOMAN CLAD IN WHITE FLEES FROM PURSUER

Crunching and Snapping of Bones, Silence and Darkness Follow After Her Muffled Shriek.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 31.—A strange light, disclosing the form of a white-clad woman fleeing from an unseen pursuer, a muffled shriek, a sound as of crunching and snapping of bones, silence and darkness.

These happenings in the old house, the scene of the murder of Blanche Montgomery, with increasing frequency, are the cause of much wonder and no little speculation on the part of the people of the town of Scott, Monroe county.

That something strange and weird is taking place at different times is vouched for by some of the most truthful and influential citizens. The husband is now doing a life sentence at Waukegan for cracking her spinal column and breaking her neck over the back of a chair.

C. Griffin, an influential citizen, states that he has seen a light at the house, through one of the windows; also that he observed the form of a woman moving about the room, at times crouching as though in the act of hiding or trying to escape some pursuer unseen by Mr. Griffin. Mr. Parker states that he also saw a light in the place on a dark night. He was at some distance and upon approaching to investigate the light disappeared. Ernest K. Snell also states that there is something wrong at the house, but he, like the others, insists that there must be some natural explanation for it all.

ACCUSE WOMAN OF SHOOTING

Virginia Banker Is Injured in Mysterious Manner and May Die.

Danville, Va., Oct. 31.—S. H. Buchanan, a banker, of Jonesboro, Ga., was shot here Saturday night and is in a critical condition. He was with Mrs. W. T. White at the latter's home at the time and she has been arrested, charged with the crime. She declares that it was a case of attempted suicide. Buchanan is said to have a wife living in Georgia. Mrs. White says she knew Buchanan in Georgia before coming to Virginia.

OLD AND NEW ROME.

LATE BUILDINGS MAR BEAUTY OF ANCIENT CITY.

Hand of Time Relied on to Improve Conditions—Some of the Most Stately of the Many Churches—Garibaldi's Monument.

(Special Correspondence.)

One of the most common complaints that artists and those given to esthetic expressions make on coming to Rome is that the city has been modernized out of recognition and with a woeful lack of taste. The idea at first prevailed that the new masters of the Eternal City were striving to convert it into a feeble and distant imitation of modern Paris. In spite of all that has been accomplished in the course of thirty years the remnants of the old Rome are still to be seen, and travelers are to be met with in the narrow, sunless lanes, rather than streets, of Trastevere, sauntering slowly along, admiring magnificent fragments of architecture or abandoned frescoes, with a most refreshing interest.

The fountains of Rome are celebrated throughout Europe, and several of them are unequalled for grandeur and artistic beauty. But the fountain that occupies the center of the Piazza di Perini, at the end of the Via Nazionale, is notorious rather than celebrated. It was originally built to mark the completion of a great work achieved under Pope Pius IX., the restoration of the ancient aqueducts and conduits which led to Rome the stream known as the Aqua Marcia, originally in use long prior to the Christian era. On the 10th of September, 1870, Pius IX., assisted at the inauguration of the fountain, and earlier in the morning of the same day he received the letter of Victor Emmanuel II., announcing his determination to invade the Pope's Roman possessions, and requesting meanwhile the pontiff's blessing!

Among the important memorials in the newest Rome is the grandiose and stately Church of St. Joachim, erected as a jubilee offering to the late pontiff, Leo XIII., whose name was Joachim. It is the outcome of the enthusiasm of a French priest, the Abbe Brugidou, who had more zeal than business capacity, and was eminently successful in accumulating a very heavy debt, which the late pontiff paid up to preserve the church from being sold. The cupola is formed of a white metallic substance that shines like silver in the sunshine, and which is pierced in star like apertures filled with yellow glass, through which the light penetrates in golden glow. Above the rich portico of fine Corinthian columns a glowing mosaic is seen. The interior is distinguished for its wealth of marbles and bronzes and frescoes.

Along the aisles are chapels which are constructed and adorned at the expense of several of the nations of Christendom. The chapel of the United States at the right near the transept is a splendid shrine in richness of painting, sculpture and decoration. Opposite is the French chapel; close by is that very rich indeed, which England has made its own; on the opposite side, its art expressive of the new impulse that possesses the mind of the Irish people—the Celtic revival—is the recently completed Irish chapel. Thus this church would seem to be a world's gift to the memory of Leo XIII. The beauty of the structure and its method of adornment are not quite like those which prevail in Rome, and it has a suggestion of modern French church architecture. Yet it is characteristic of the new Rome, to which nothing that is good, whatever the style may be, is wholly foreign.

The site of the city of Rome is, it has been said, quite fitted to receive the capital of the world. The azure of the horizon here is limpid and dazzling, and the dark foliage of the north harmonizes here with the lighter foliage of the south. In the garden of the palace of Queen Margaret, mother of the present king, there stand still the close leaved flexes, made rather a stately and novel combination of figures. The horse on which the hero of the figure is placed, seen from beneath, seems very long in the legs, a defect which probably arises more from the position of the ordinary spectator than from a fault in the modeling. There is a particular show of animation in the groups of soldiers and allegorical figures at the base of the pedestal, which is not perhaps beyond the proprieties, as the material is of bronze, but which some are inclined to regard as excessive, as breaking in upon the lines of the group taken as a whole.

Rome indeed is not devoid of monuments or statues. There is a fever prevailing both in France and Italy of what is called "statue mania," and even ordinary individuals who have done little else than live through their lives are remembered by memorials in stone or bronze. Statues are everywhere—in college courts, in public squares and in tiny gardens; they are so numerous that a future generation will have difficulty to remember them, not having known them; for the present generation who have met some of them in restaurants or lecture rooms, in public demonstrations or in the halls of parliament, the task is not so difficult. The great monument to Victor Emmanuel, too, huge construction probably ever raised, since the pyramid builders ceased work, to commemorate a king, is not likely to be completed for years to come. The men who know him during life are not likely to live to see the monument finished. It is a construction of slow growth, made slower still by want of funds and by frequently recurring strikes among the workmen.

Time in its course is bringing the harsh colors and inharmonious freshness of the new Rome into a condition in which the discord is less felt. In the course of the years, when rain and sunshine have beaten upon the staring bright of the new walls of Rome, it will be difficult to distinguish them from those that are more ancient.

Praise for Jewish Soldiers.

YOU have read our advertisements and you have profited by taking advantage of our many liberal offers. Now let us talk plain business together about one minute. Every merchant has inducements to offer his trade; one seeks one method, another seeks another. One gives away hundreds of dollars worth of premiums, the customers pay the fiddler. One gives away hundreds of dollars worth of trading stamps, the customers pay the fiddler. One gives credit and loses hundreds of dollars each year, the customers pay the fiddler.

Now we are going to MAKE PRICES LOWER than these other men can afford to make, and give you hundreds of dollars worth of good coin back in lieu of premiums and stamps. We are going to give the cash paying public the benefit of cash. You are the customers we want, and you are the customers we are going to take care of. You cash paying people, come to us; not on one item only but on ninety-nine out of one hundred we will sell at lower prices than others.

casting deep shadows around, that are the last remnants in the way of trees of the demolished Villa Ludovisi. The palace itself is a new construction made by the Plombino family; and it is here that the two American ambassadors to the Quirinal, Wayne MacVeagh and Gen. Draper, resided in succession. Here also the present ambassador, Mr. Meyer, would have lived, had not Queen Margaret purchased it for her residence.

Among the newer adornments of the city, one of the most conspicuous is the great monument to Garibaldi on the Janiculum Hill, on the Trastevere side of the city. This position is the highest in Rome, and as the pedestal of the chief figure is of unusual altitude the statue is seen from nearly every part of Rome, and from several spots in the near Cam-
